

My faith formation workshop was a hit!

Financial freedom

Brave women

a delicious sticky chai

The weather being so beautiful!

I do not have financial pressure to work

I love that my business is my passion this is such a cool tool!

My family, and my job.

My companion dog, security and safety, my work

BETreat

My life

walking the dogs

Today the weather is glorious

a full dam

My growth and learning

My ever evolving personal journey is difficult at times, but has so many great rewards

Where I live, my library and my dogs

the opportunity to learn

Time in the form of long service leave so I can stay home and write my phd.

A glorious day with beautiful sunshine

For wonderful new random connections that give me confidence in my pathway

Think of 3 things you are grateful for today to add to your gratitude jar.

Gratitude

A dam to kayak on

Being able to have purchased our dream home with acreage & for the birth of our first child last month x

A partner that cooks fabulous vegetarian food even though he's not.

I am grateful for the wonderful strong women in my life.

A sister to talk to

I am extremely grateful for my two dogs

Sunshine after the rain

The cooler weather today (yesterday was 40C)

my beautiful daughter

The humour and quirkiness of my teenage daughter and son

the lovely women at work who are joining me in a macrame session this week
